Student Comment:

So let's just start out with the obvious - JinJin has had a phenomenal year in Form II! She has been consistent with turning in homework and in preparing for projects, tests and quizzes which are important factors to her success. She is quick to seek out teachers for guidance (there is a definite pass between our room and Mrs. Wood's room!) when she has a question about homework and more importantly, I see her involved with helping her friends when they come to her with questions. JinJin has high expectations for herself and she has the drive and passion to want to reach her goals and then re-establish new ones to continually challenge herself.

JinJin has been a remarkably consistent member of both the swim and track teams and was willing to take risks in the fall as a member of the Drama Dragons. In all three areas, JinJin put in the same determination as she would in the classroom and the consistent effort paid off in the end. I look forward to seeing JinJin becoming a leader in these areas next year. For someone like JinJin who is not always the most vocal, leading by pure example with a positive attitude and effort can go just as far as the individual who is the loudest. I have no doubt she is capable of that!

I imagine that JinJin's summer will be filled with swimming and A LOT of reading! I cannot wait to hear how many books she has finished in addition to hearing about her success in the pool. Please do not be a stranger to Room 4 next year - you are always welcome to stop by! Have a great summer, JinJin!
